

10. Sharing

shah@mac.com

10.1 Wikispaces

Let's make a new folder to hold all the stuff we've done so far. Right click on the Desktop and choose New Folder.

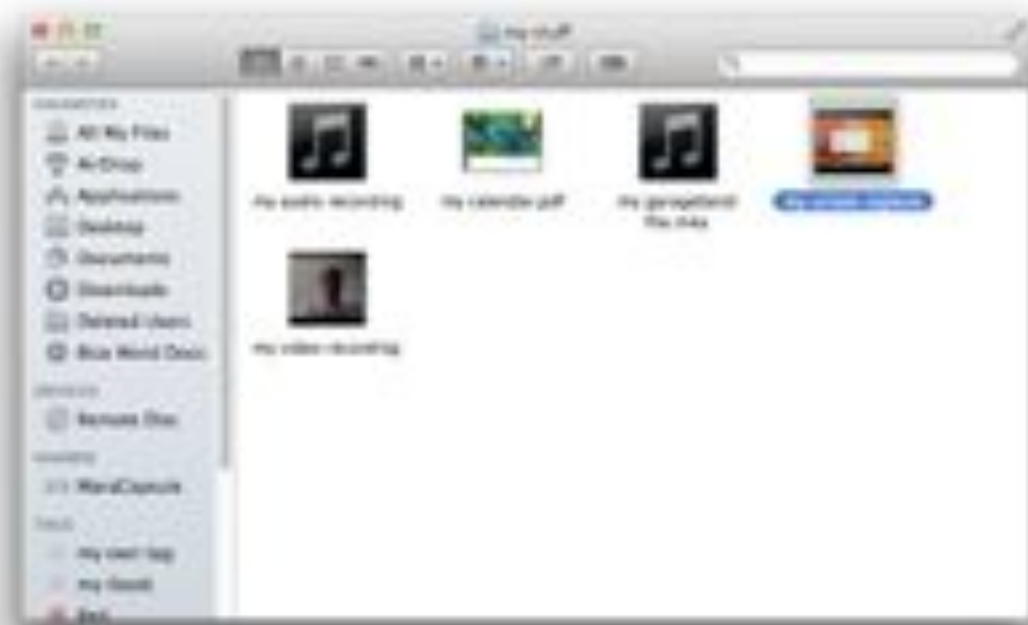

The folder name is highlighted.

Type in a new name, my stuff, and press Return.

The name of the folder is set to my stuff.

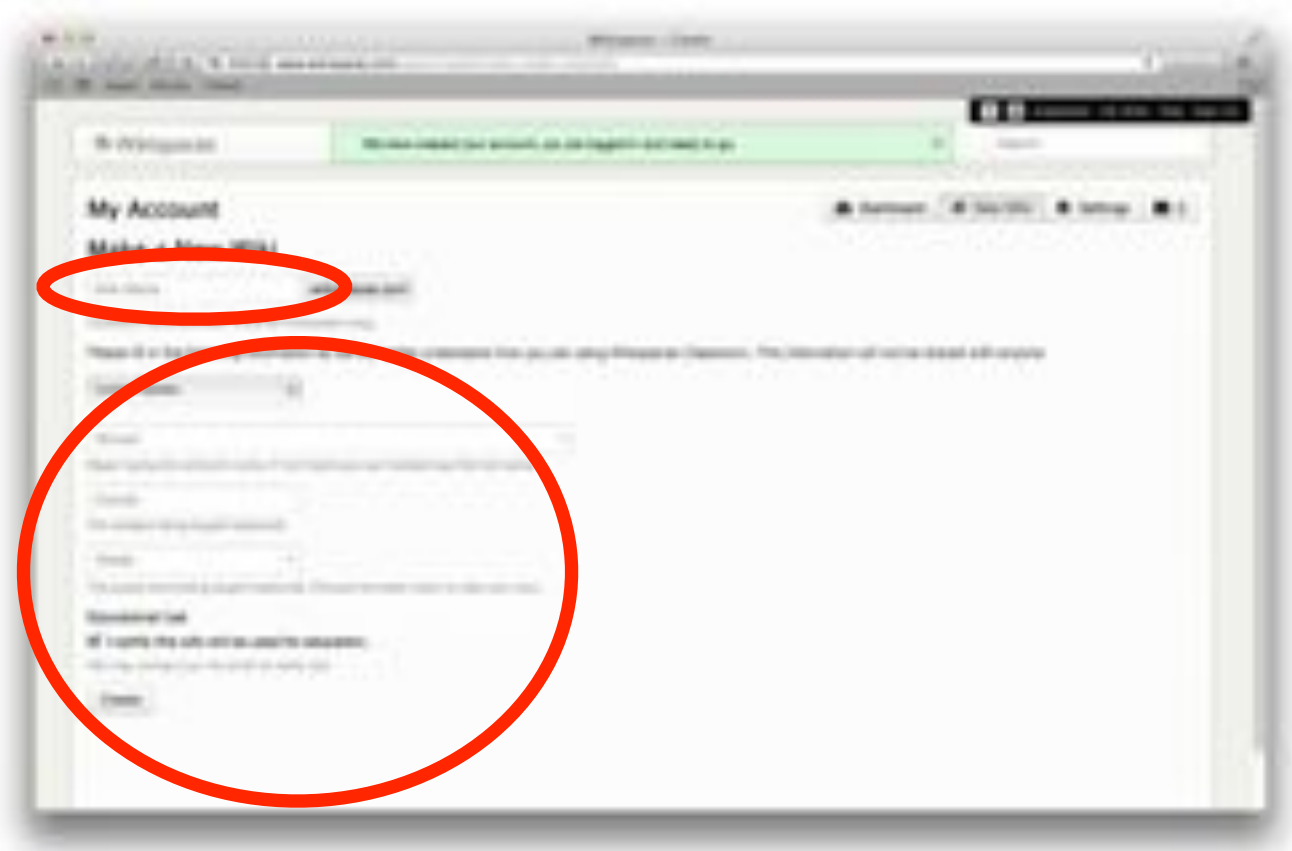

Open this folder and put all your creations in it.

Open Safari and go to <http://www.wikispaces.com>. If you have not created an account yet, do so now. Click I'm a Teacher.

Enter your name, password and email address and click Join.

Type a name for your wiki and fill in all the details required.

The image shows a web browser window displaying a form titled "Create New User". The form contains the following fields and elements:

- Name: A text input field.
- Email: A text input field.
- Password: A text input field.
- Confirm Password: A text input field.
- Create: A button at the bottom left, circled in red.

Below the form, there is a section titled "New User" with a list of users. The list has columns for "Name", "Email", and "Status". The first row shows "John Doe", "john.doe@example.com", and "Active".

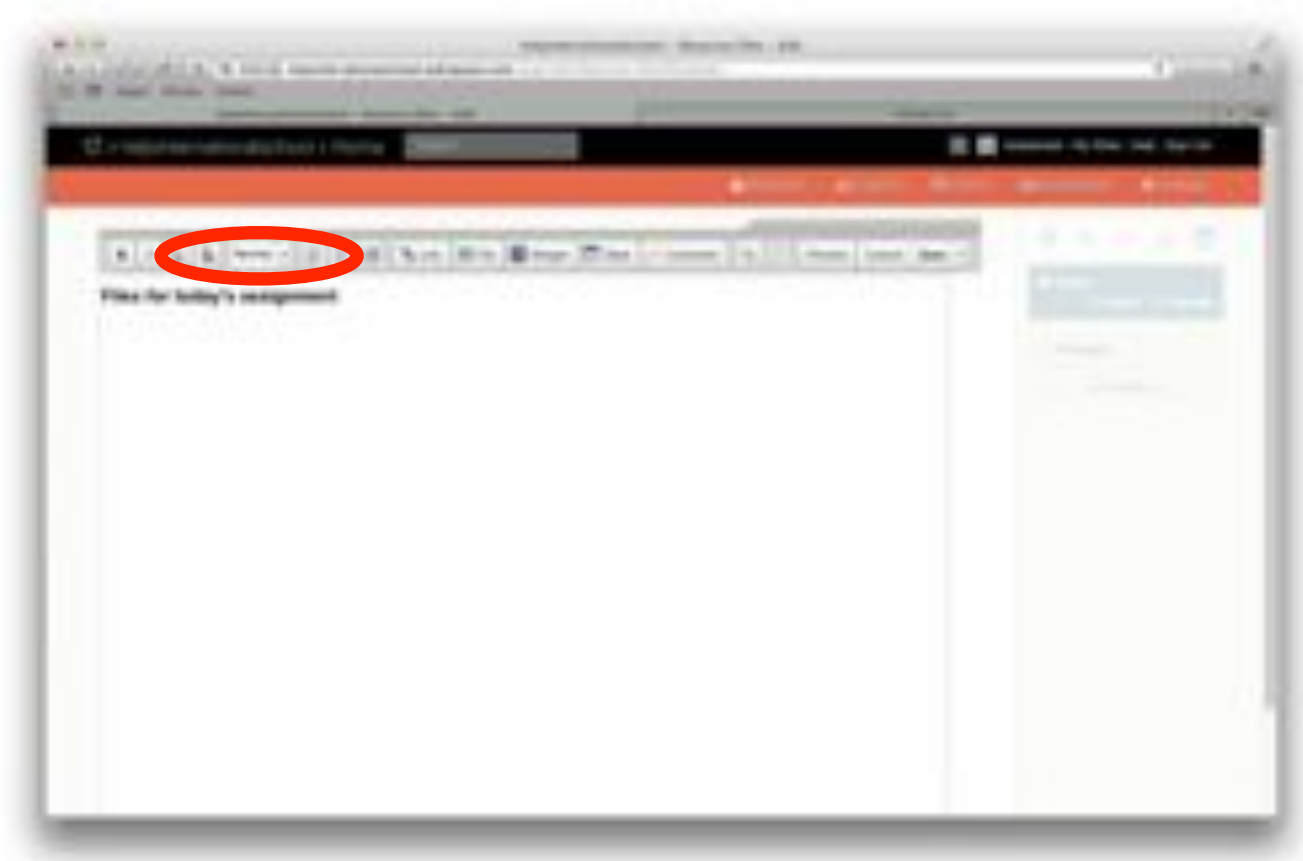

Click Create.

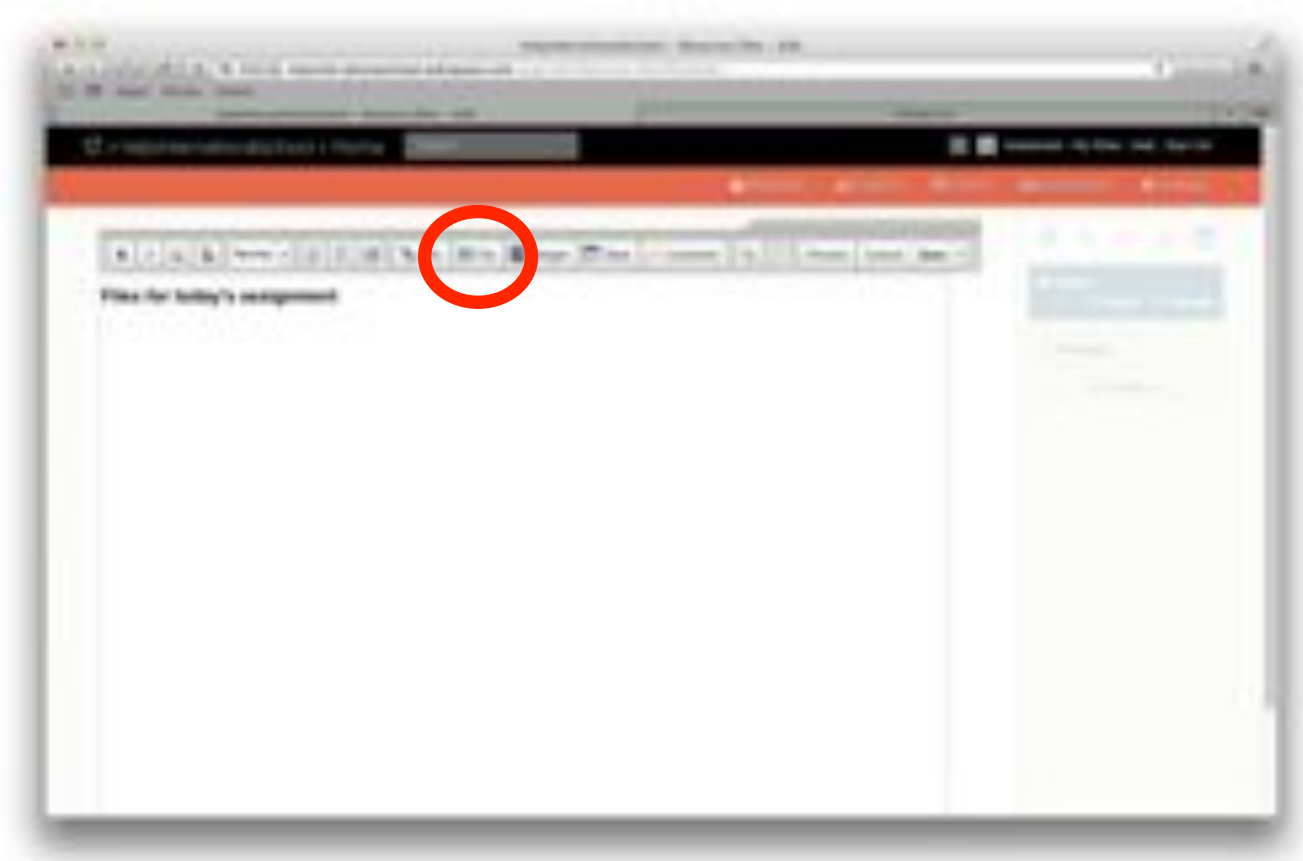

Your site has been created. Click on New page.

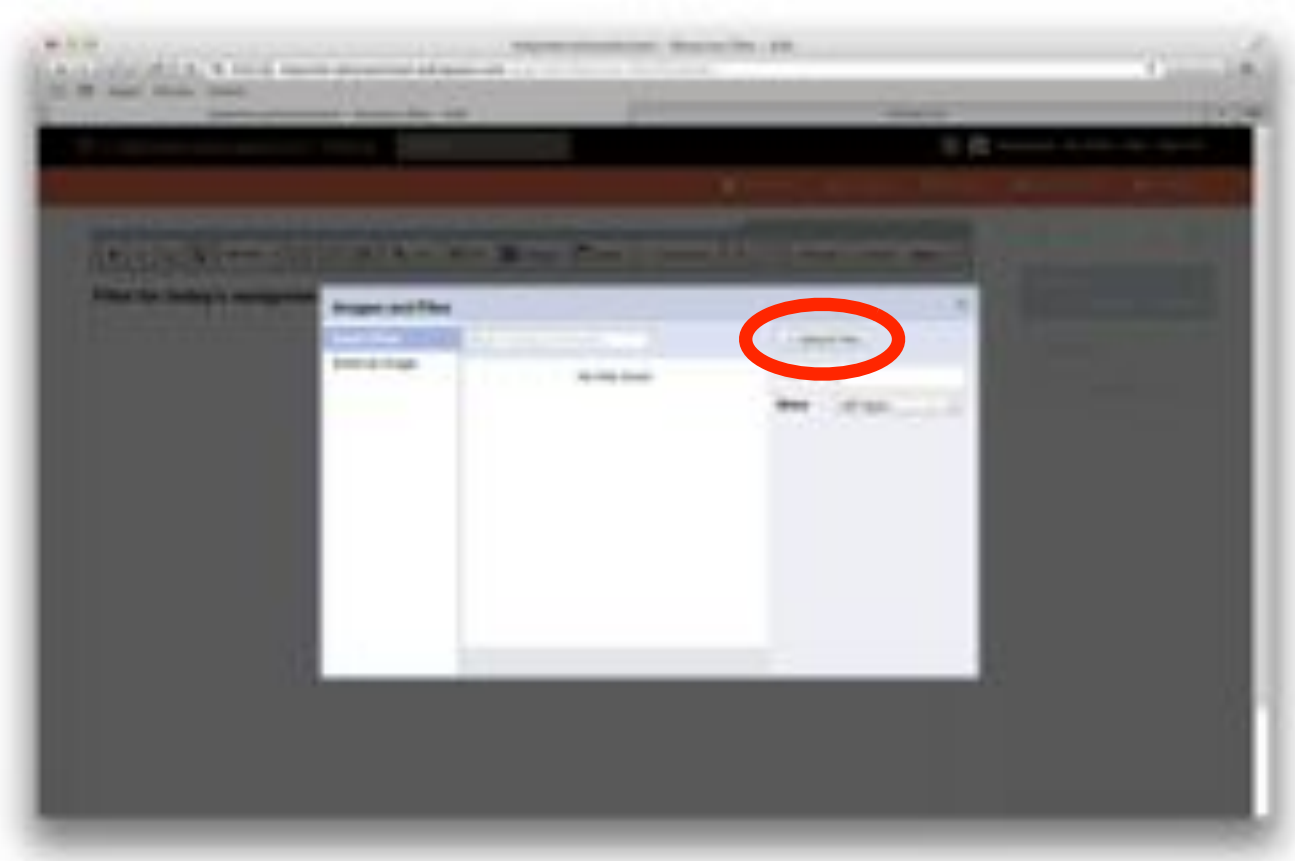

Enter a name for the page and click Create.

Type in some text to describe the page. You can change the style of the text by using the Style menu.

Click the File button to embed a file in your page.

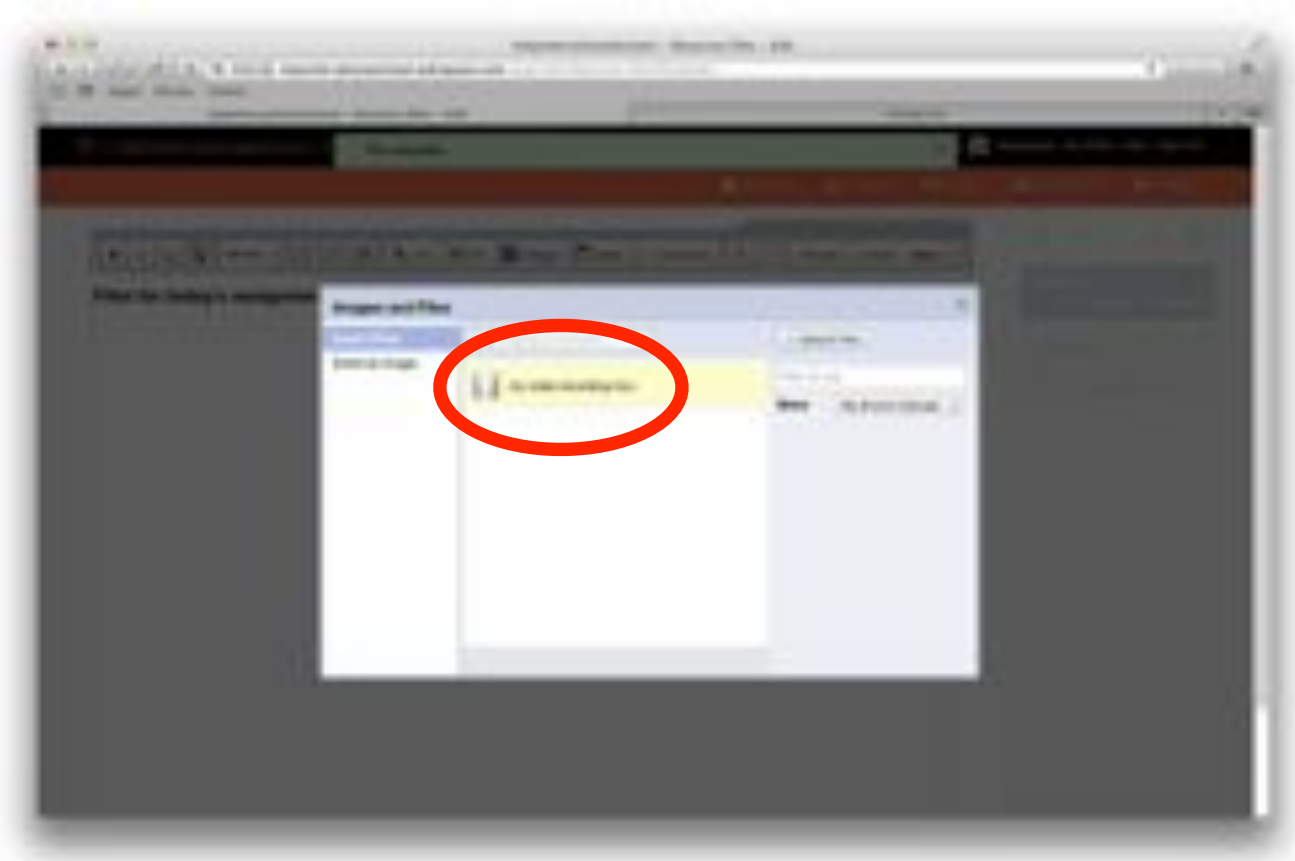

Click + Upload Files.

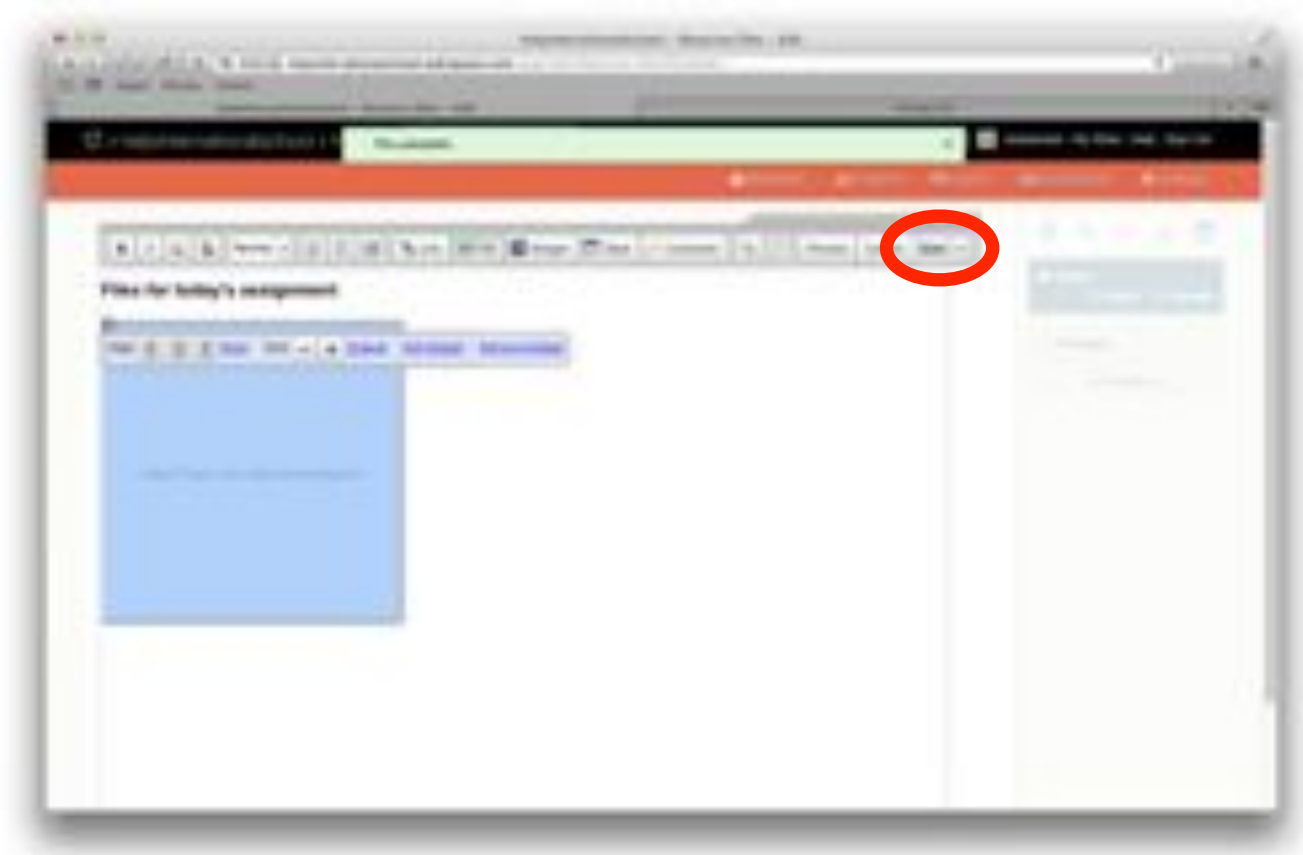

Choose a file in your My Stuff folder. File must be less than 10Mb. Here I'm choosing the video file. Click Choose.

Wait until the file uploads.

Click the file.

The file is embedded on to the wiki. Click Save.

Try playing back the video file. Quit Safari when you're done.

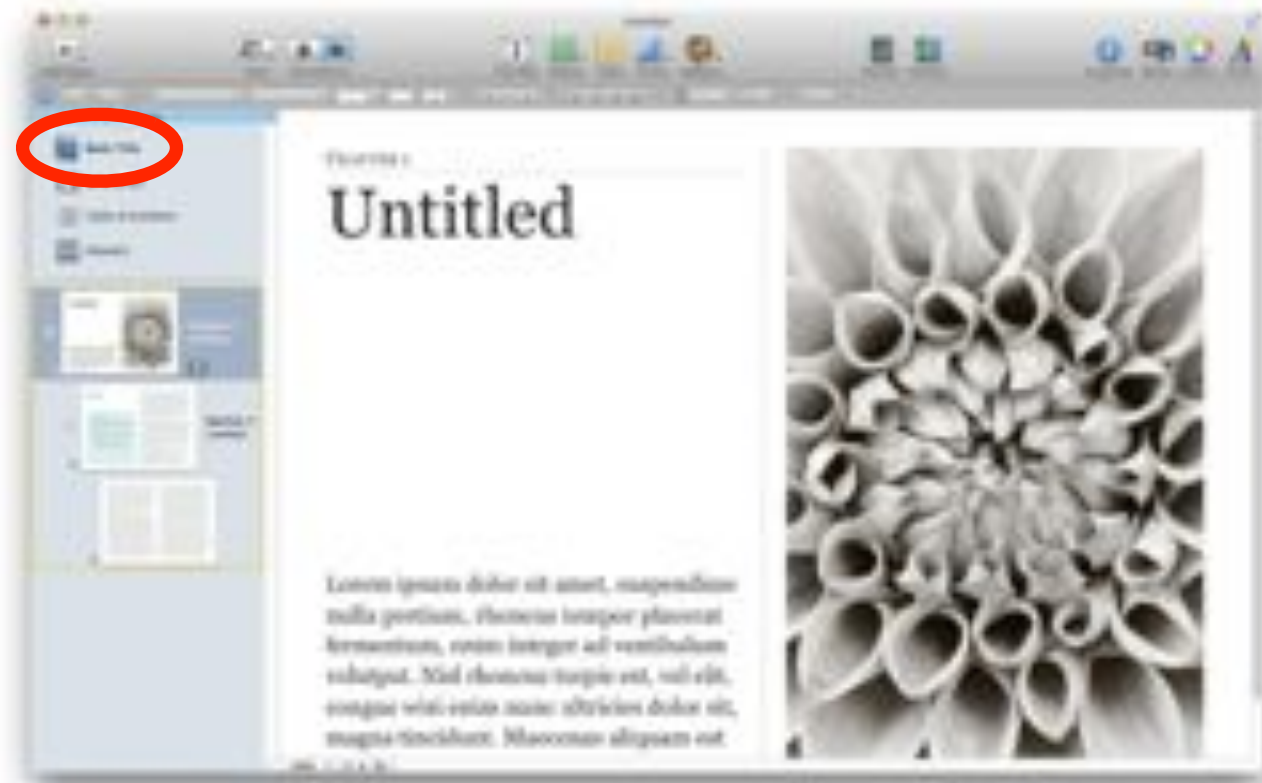

10.2 iBooks Author

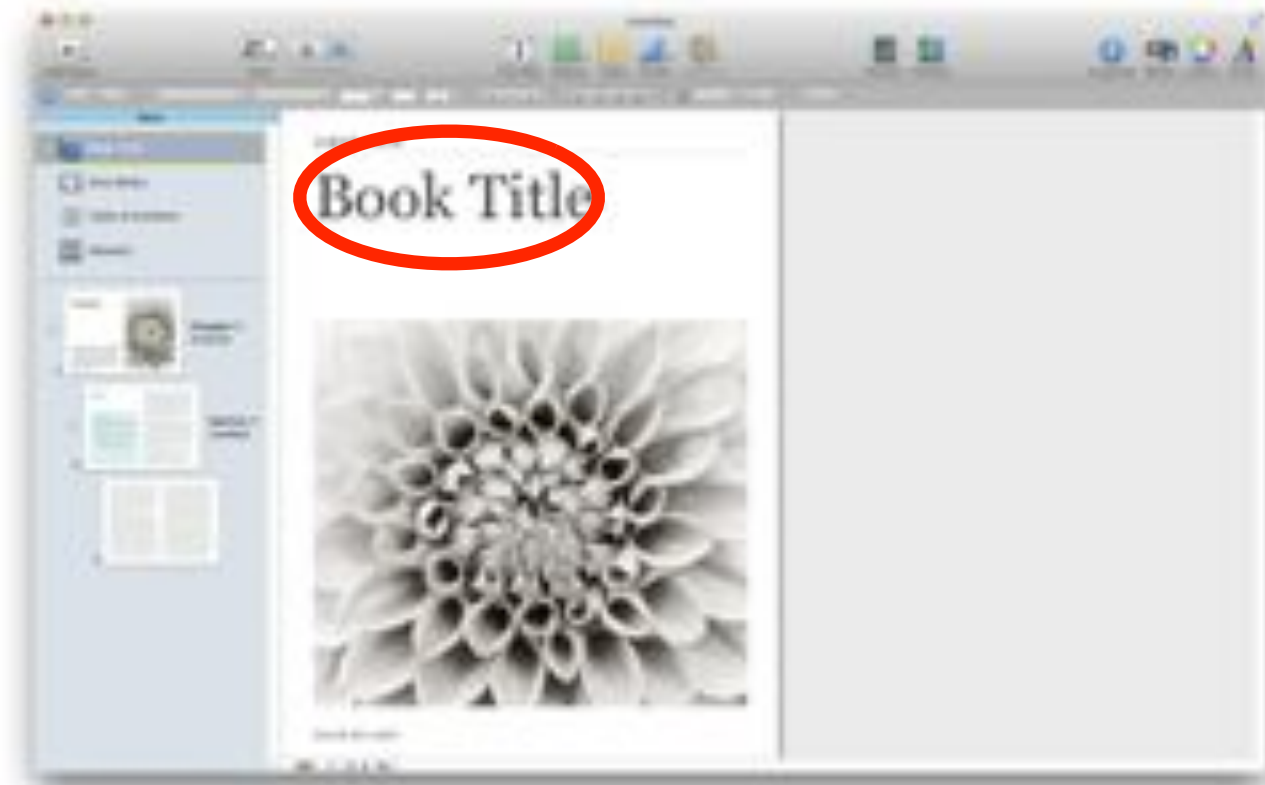

Click LaunchPad and choose iBooks Author.

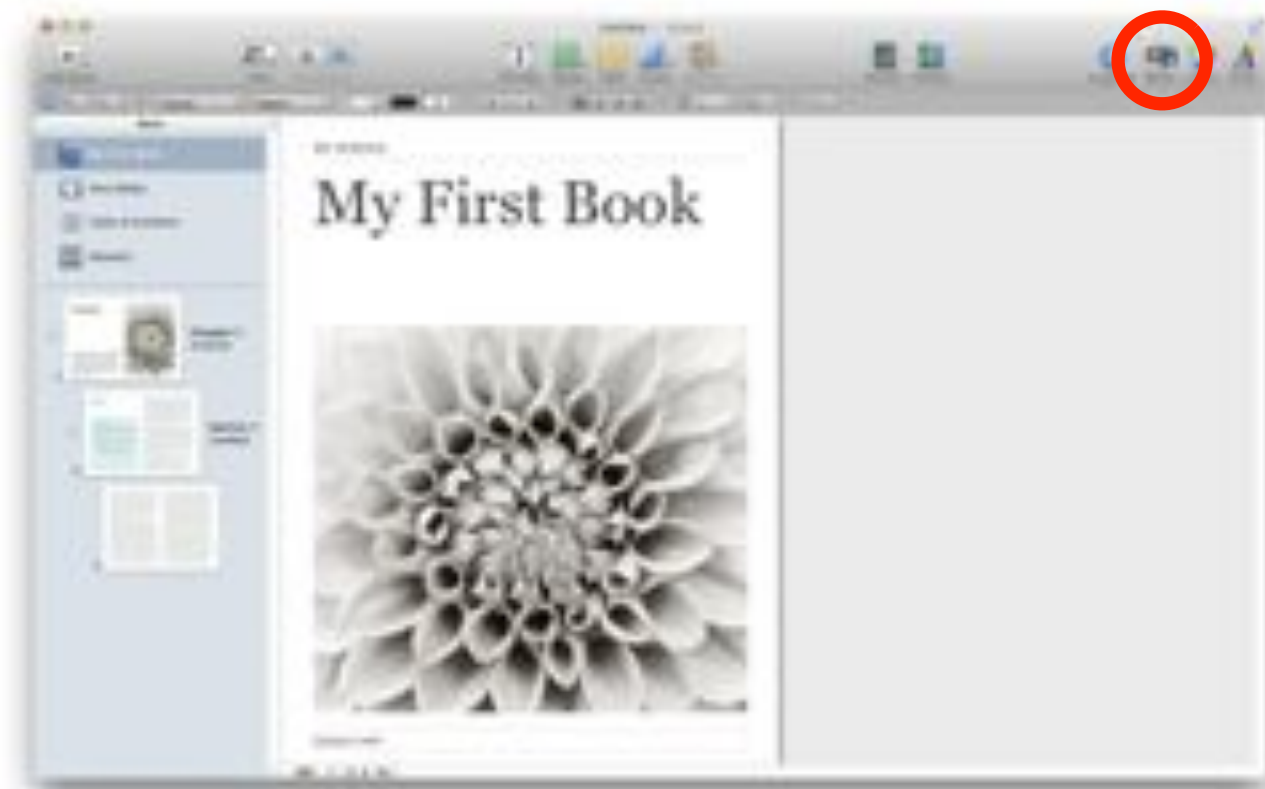

Click Basic.

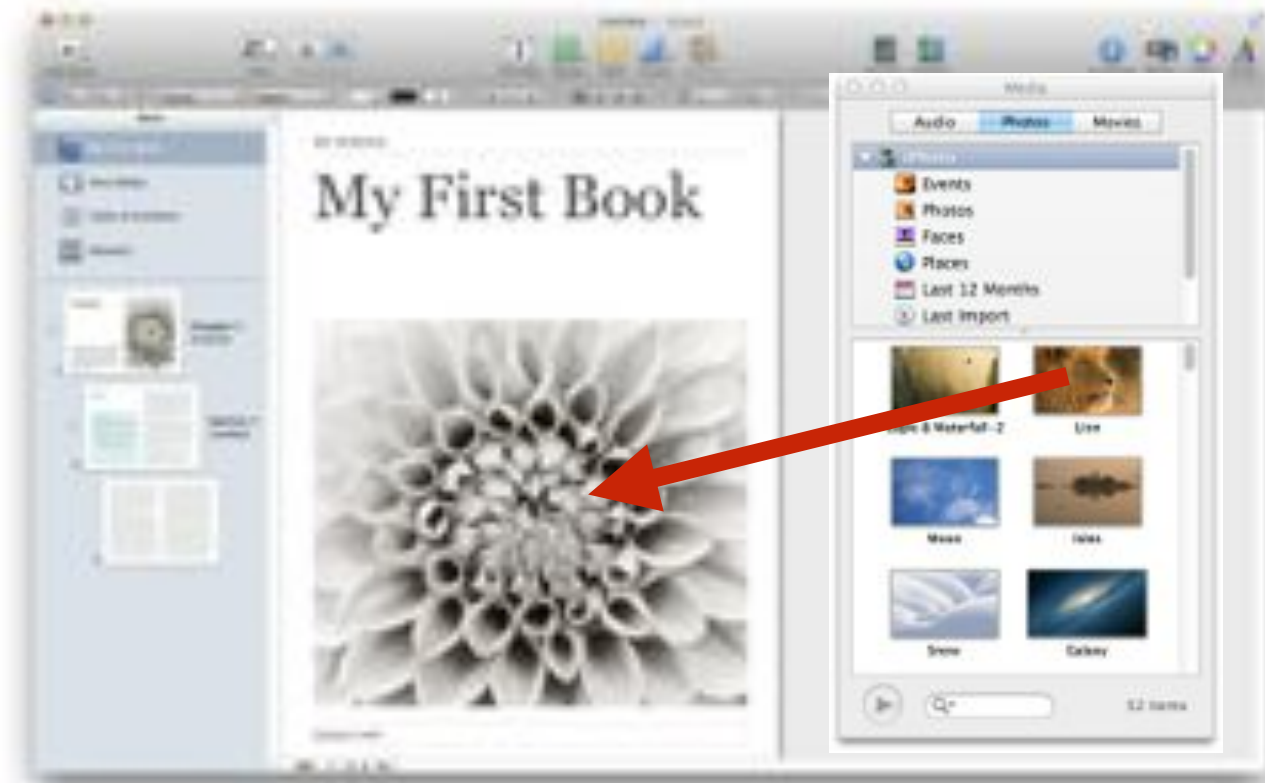

Click Book Title.

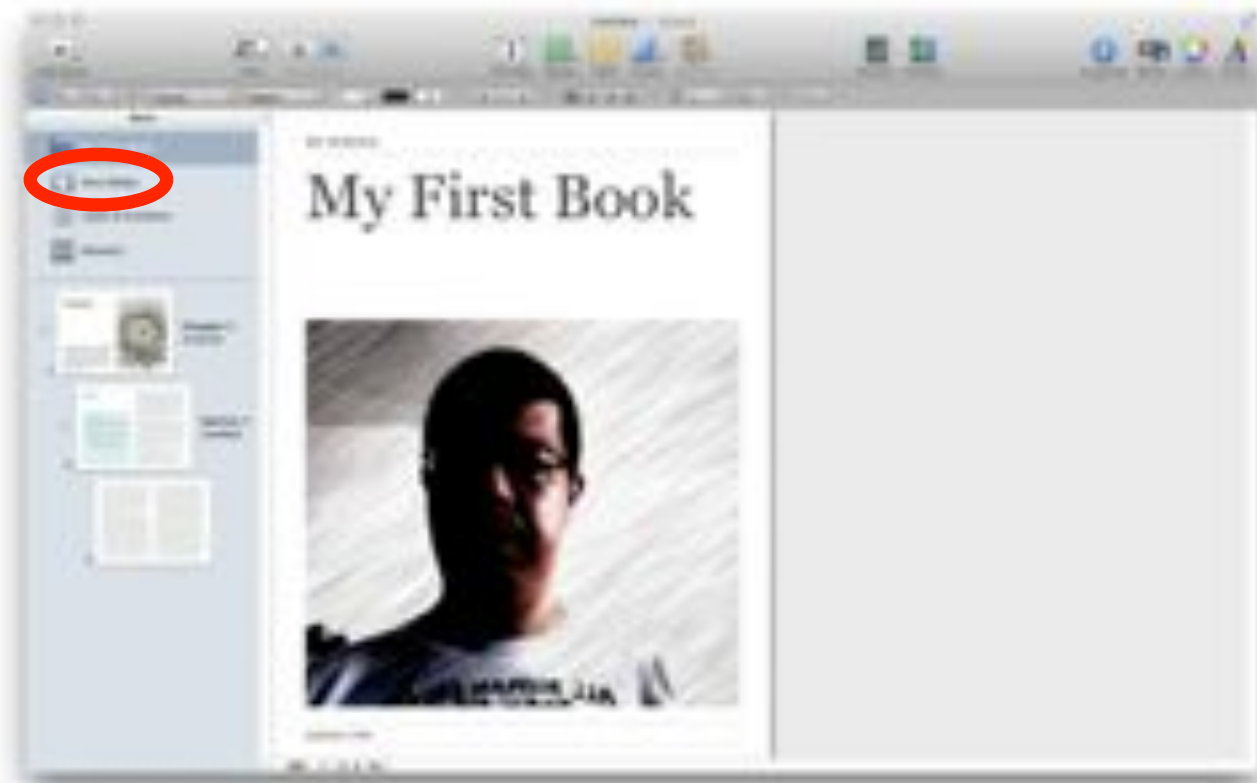

Change the Book Title to any title you want.

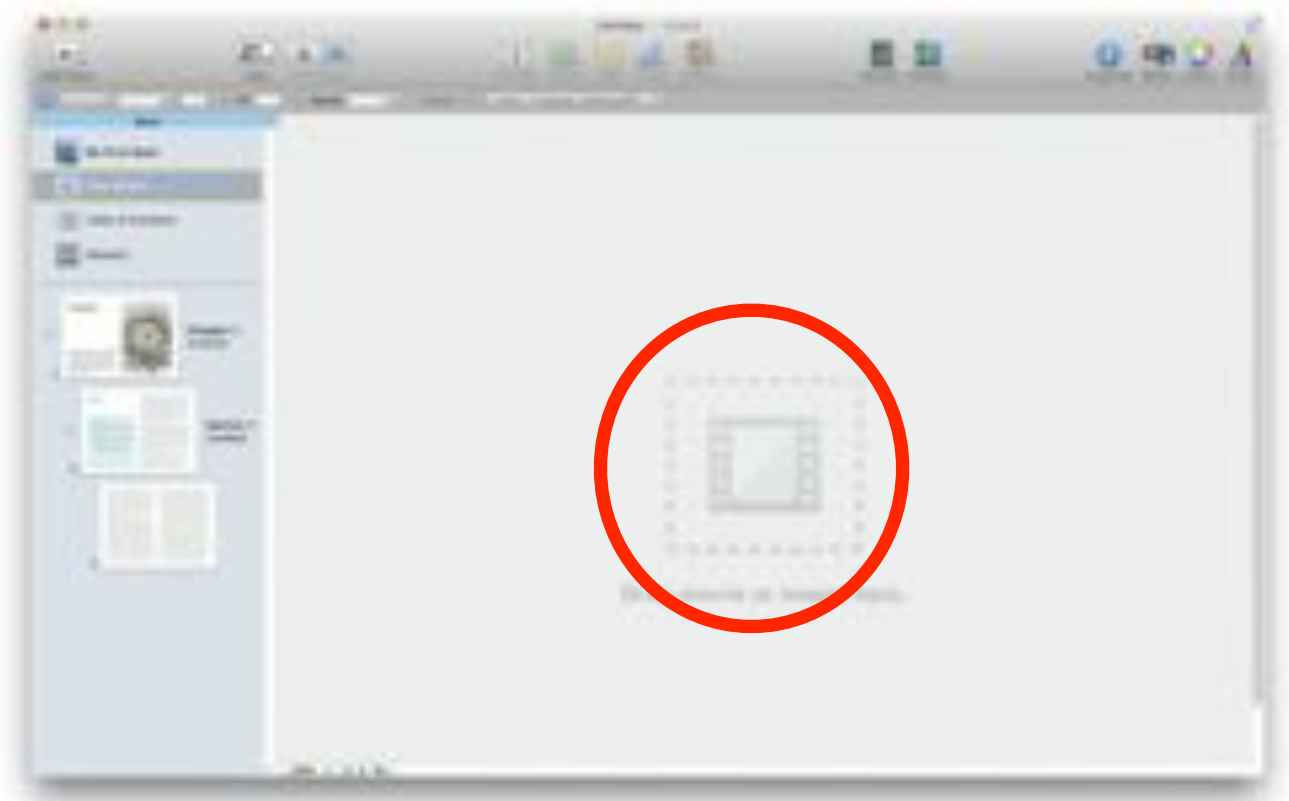

Click Media.

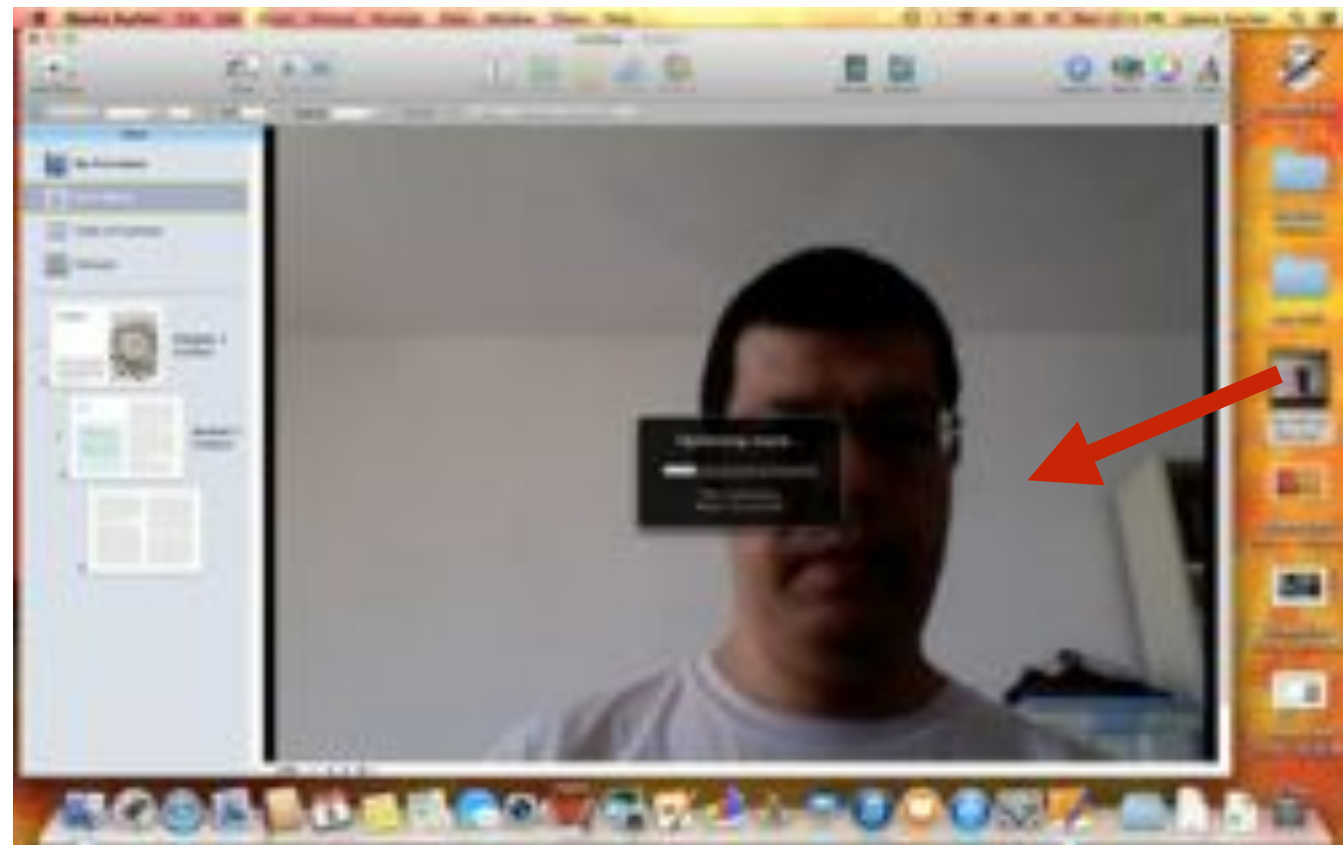

Click Photos. Drag a photo to the page. You can use any photo in iPhoto or Photo Booth.

Click Intro Media.

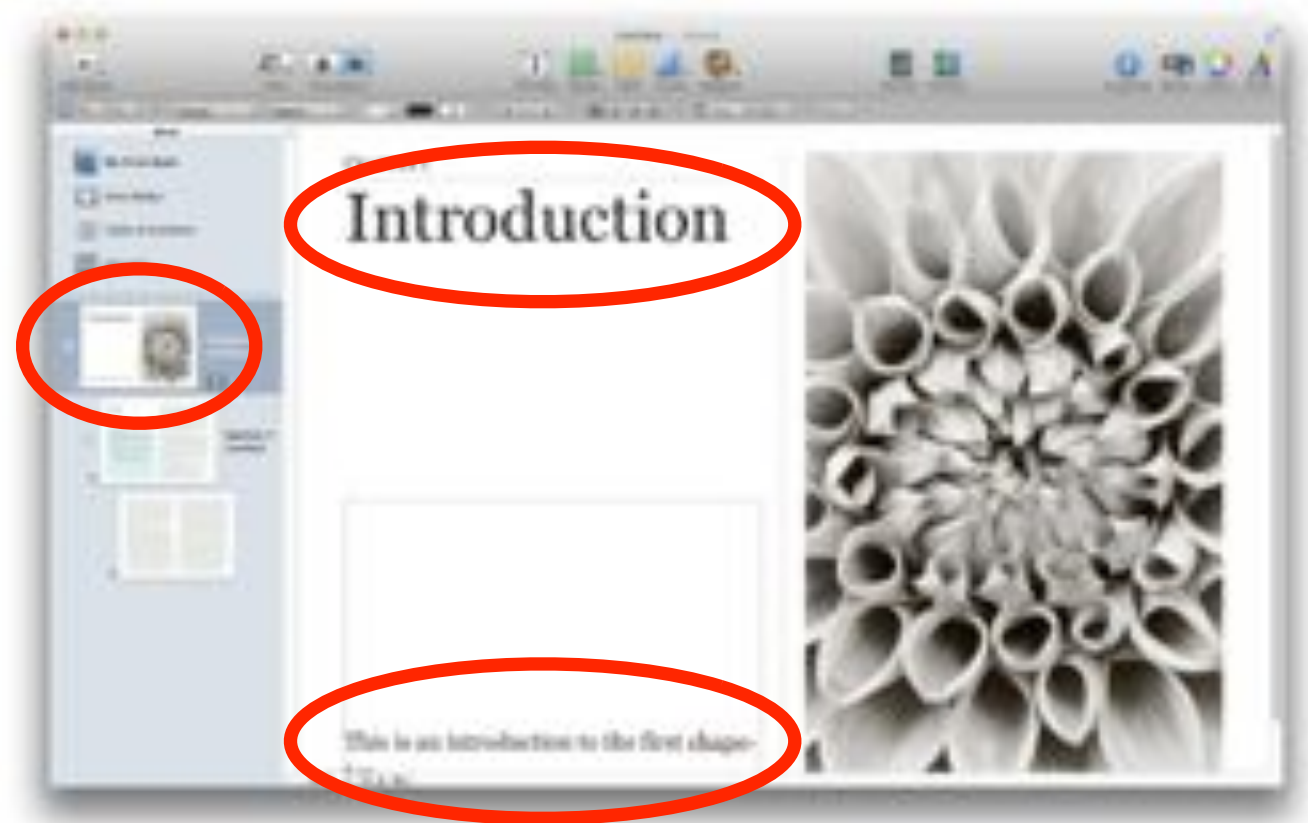

You can put a movie file here, which will be played when the book is opened.

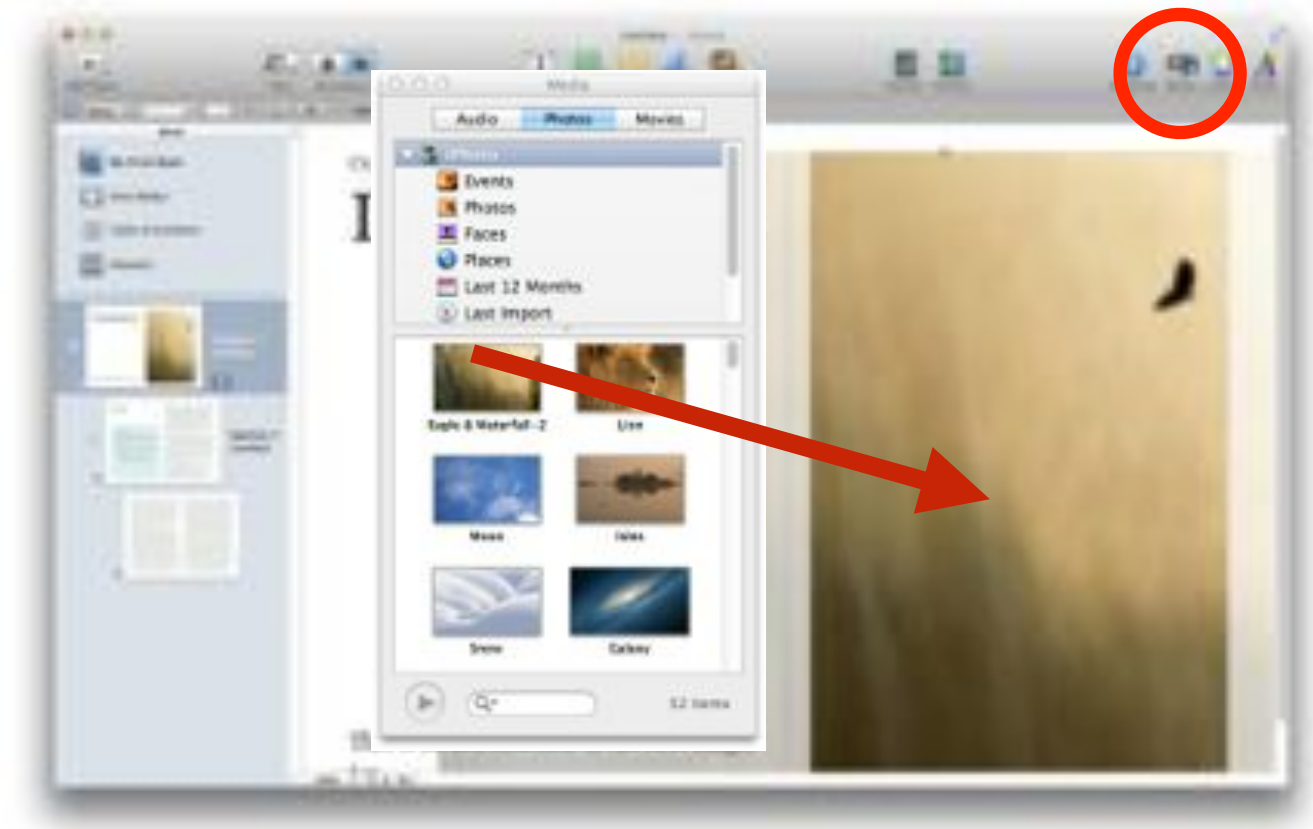

Drag in a movie file. Here I'm using the file I exported from iMovie.

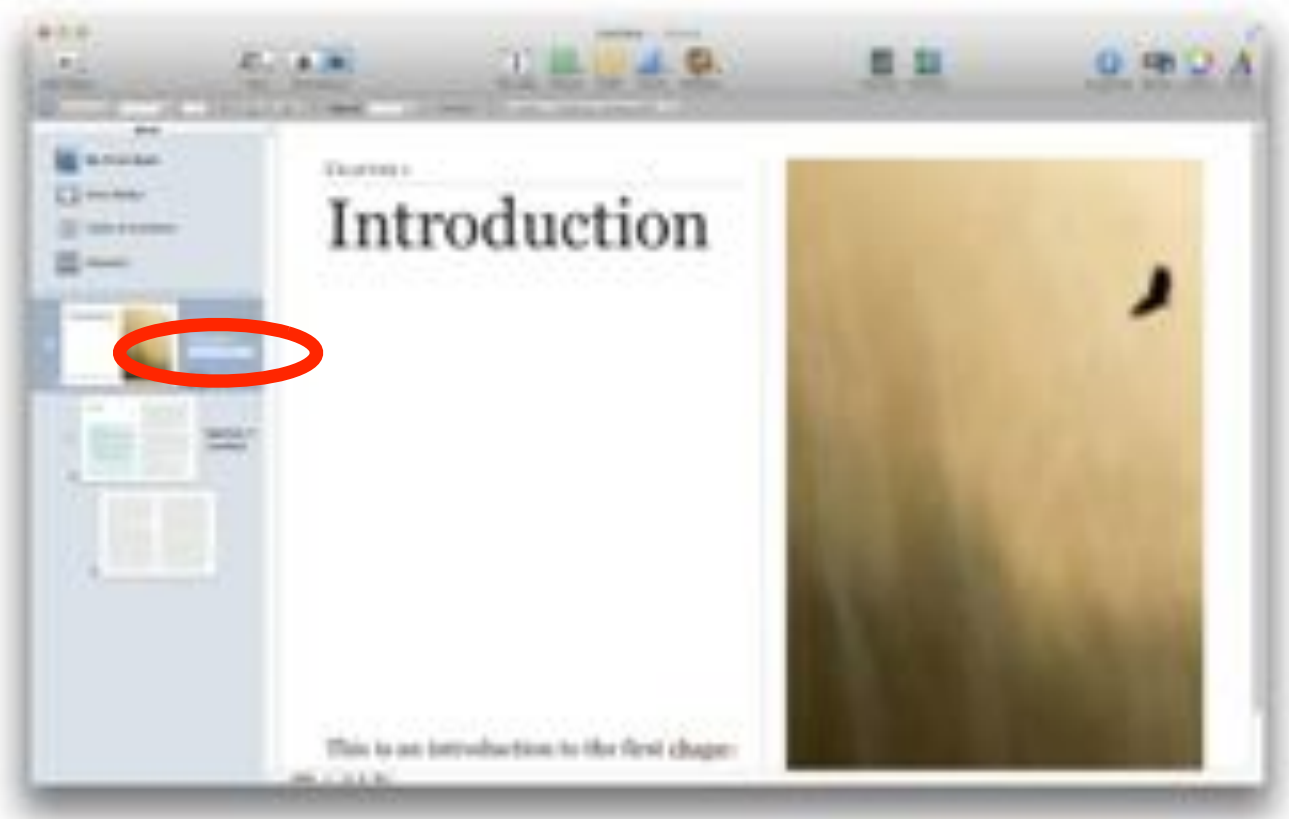

Click on Table of Contents. You don't need to change anything here, as it will be automatically generated.

Click on Chapter 1 and modify the text as you see fit.

Click Media and drag in a picture.

Change the text in the sidebar. This will update the Table of Contents.

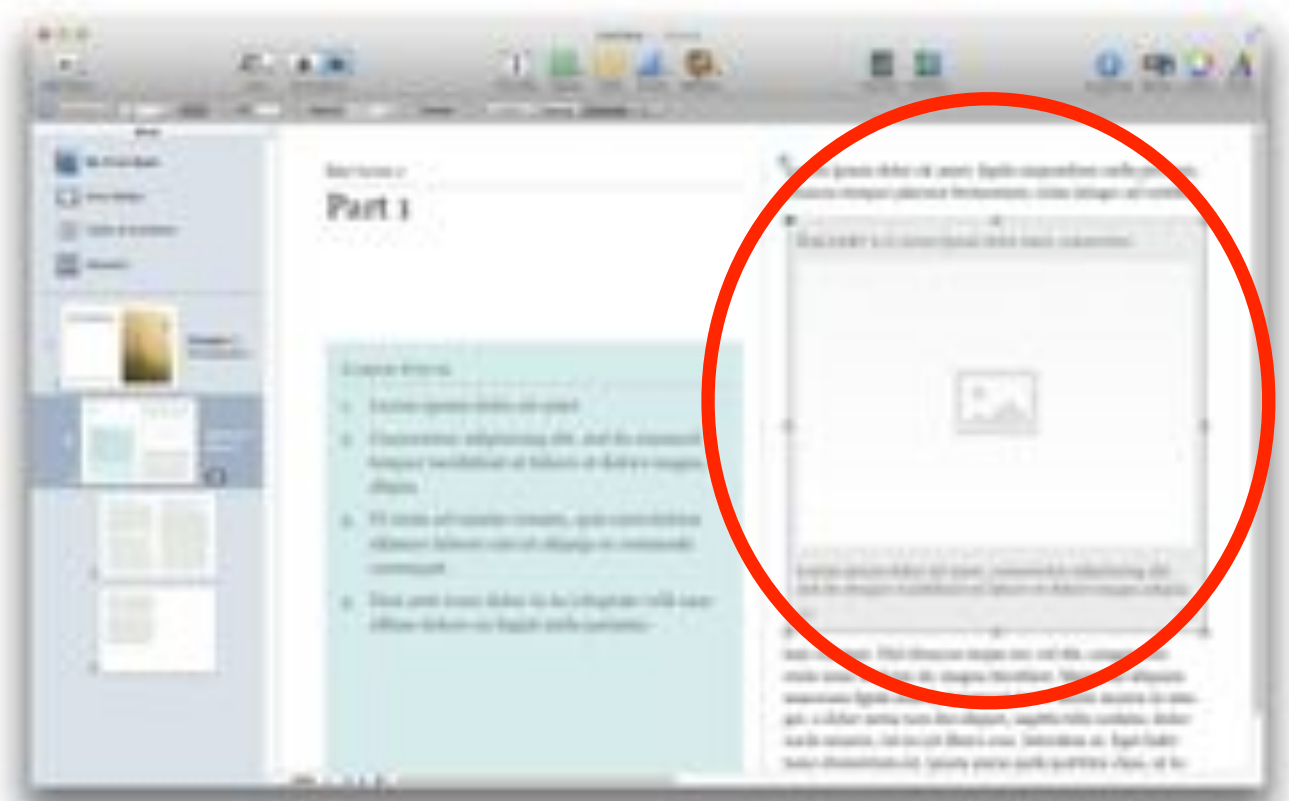

Click on Section 1. Edit the text in the sidebar to update the Table of Contents.

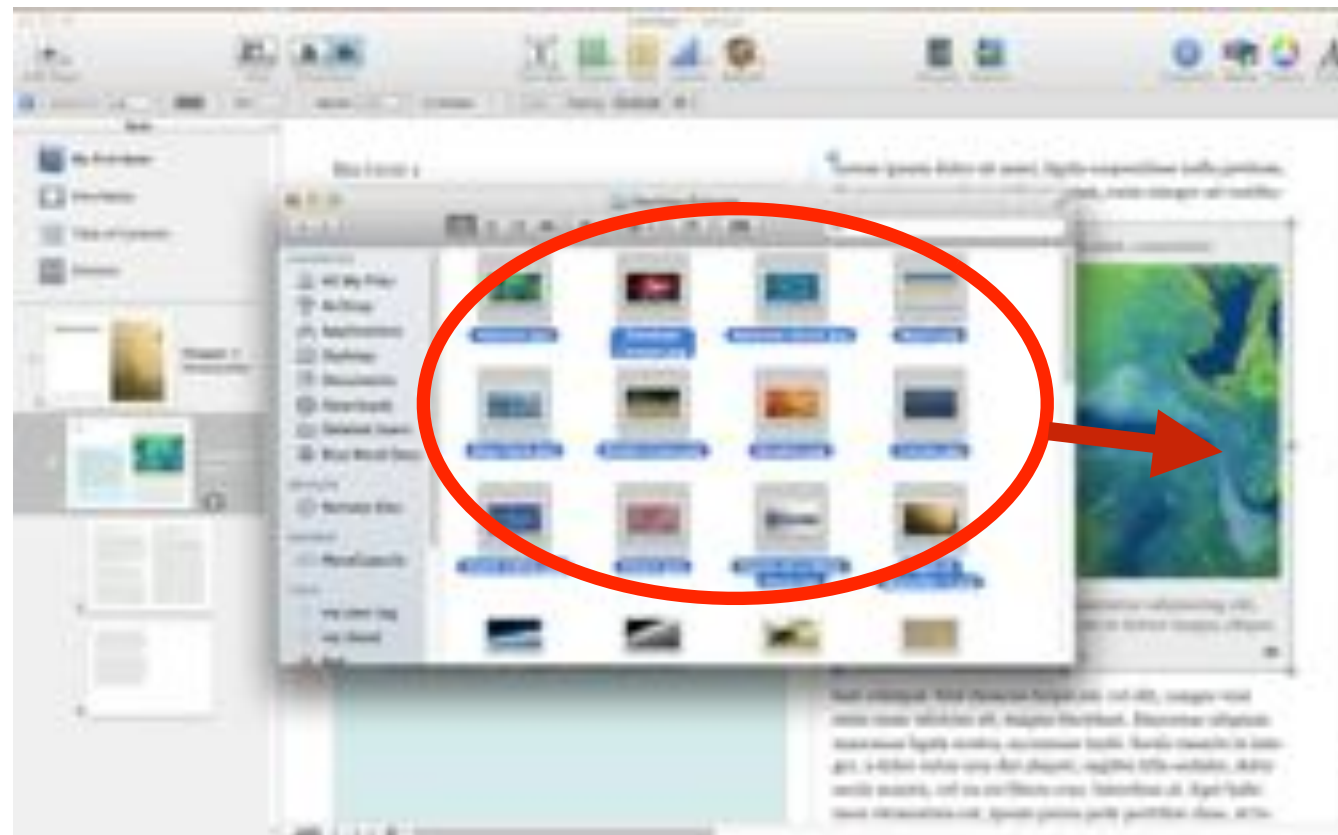

Click Widgets.

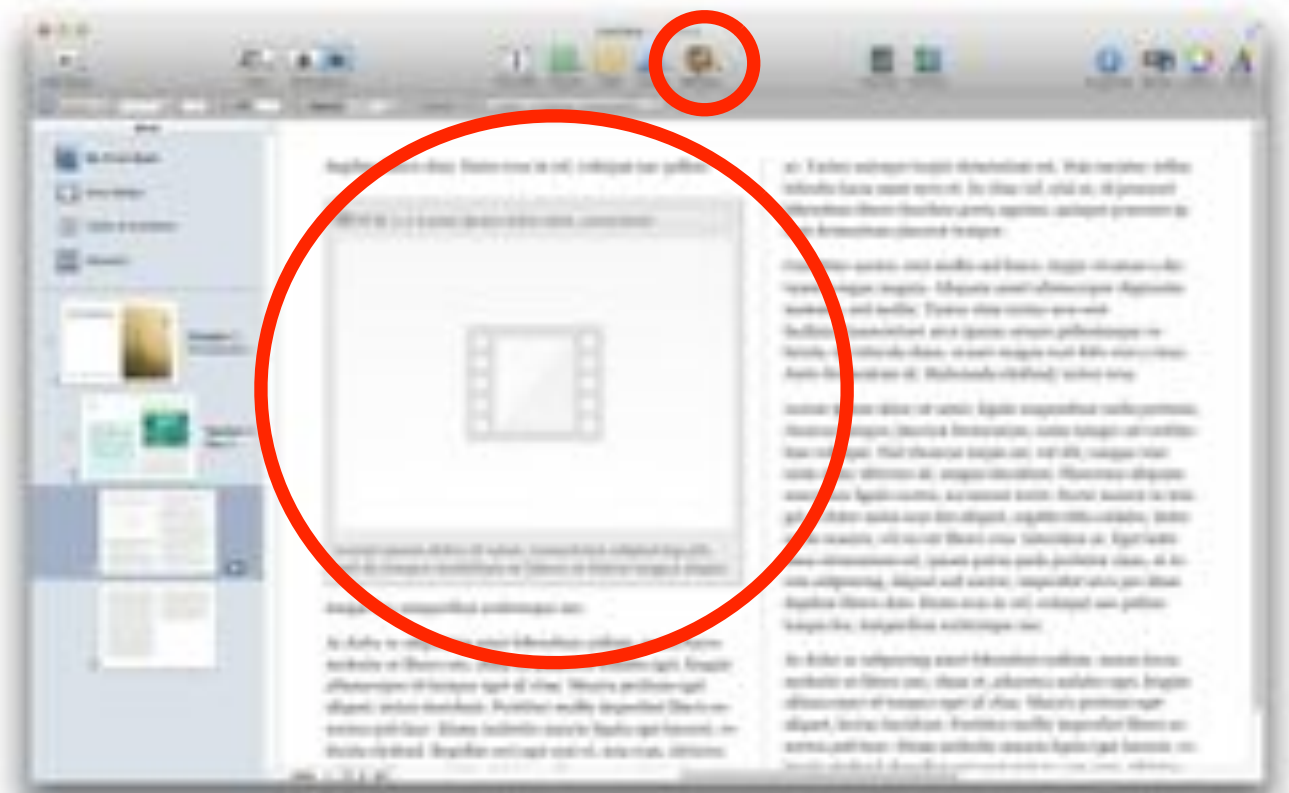

Click Gallery.

The Gallery widget is inserted into the page.

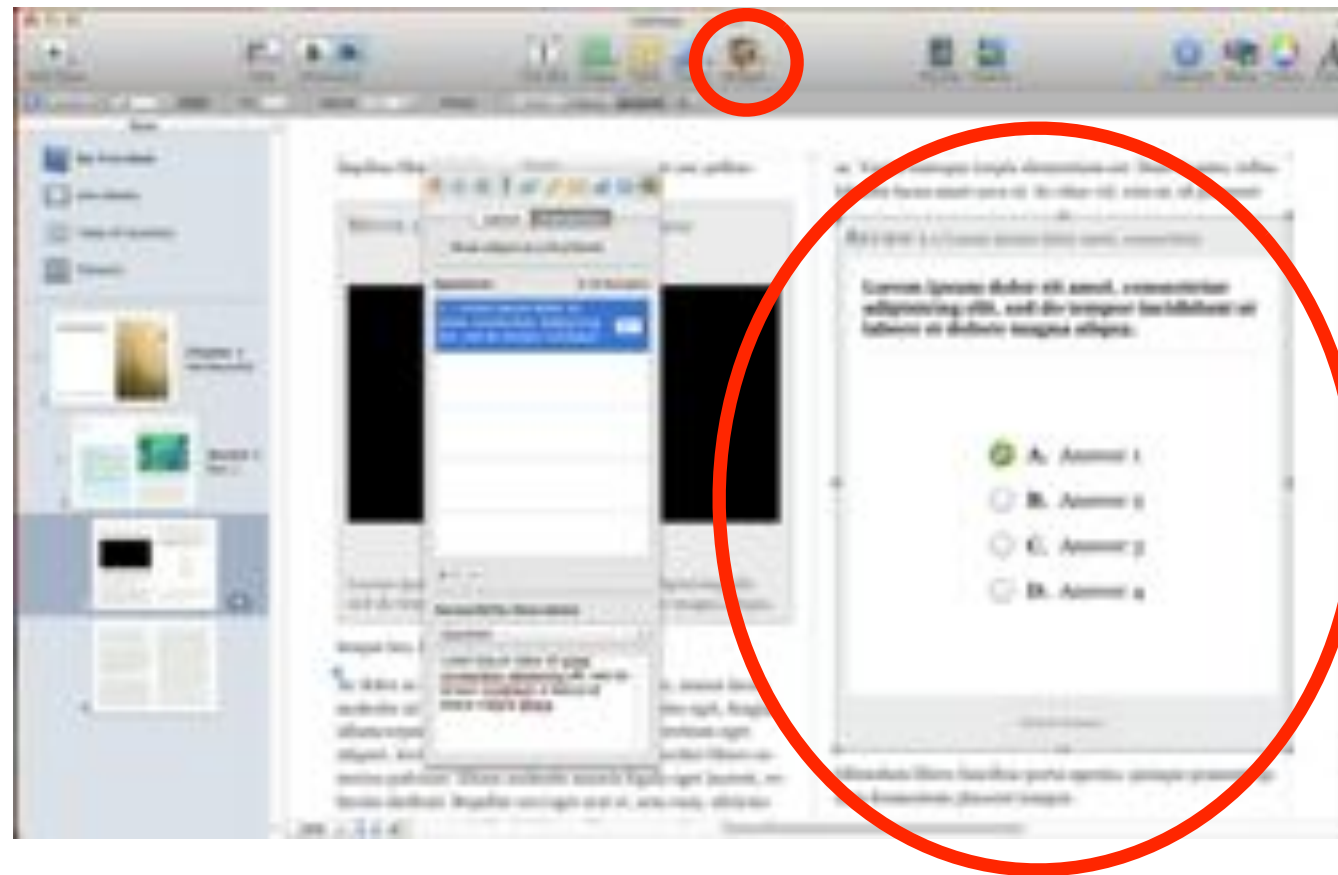

Drag a few pictures into the Gallery widget. This will appear as a slide show in the completed book.

Click the next page. Click Widgets and insert a Media widget.

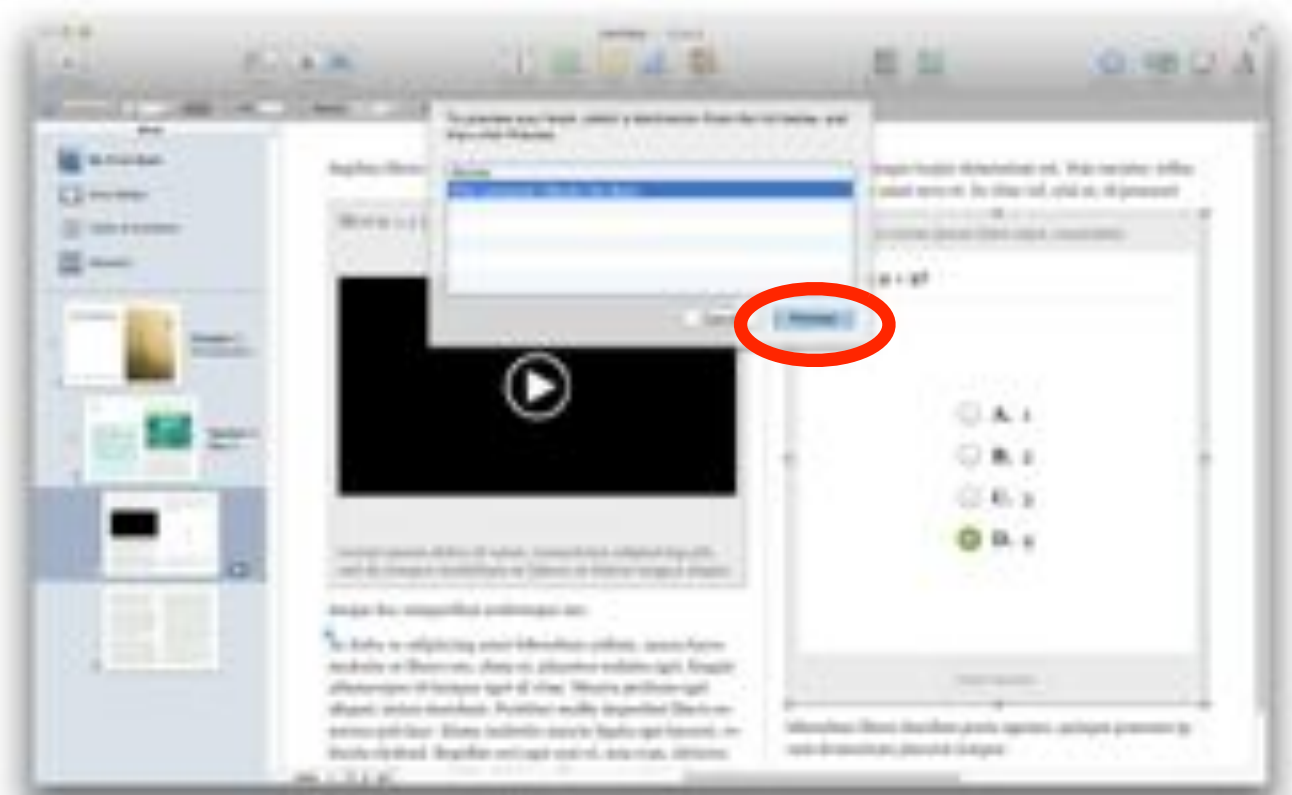

Drag in a video from your my stuff folder.

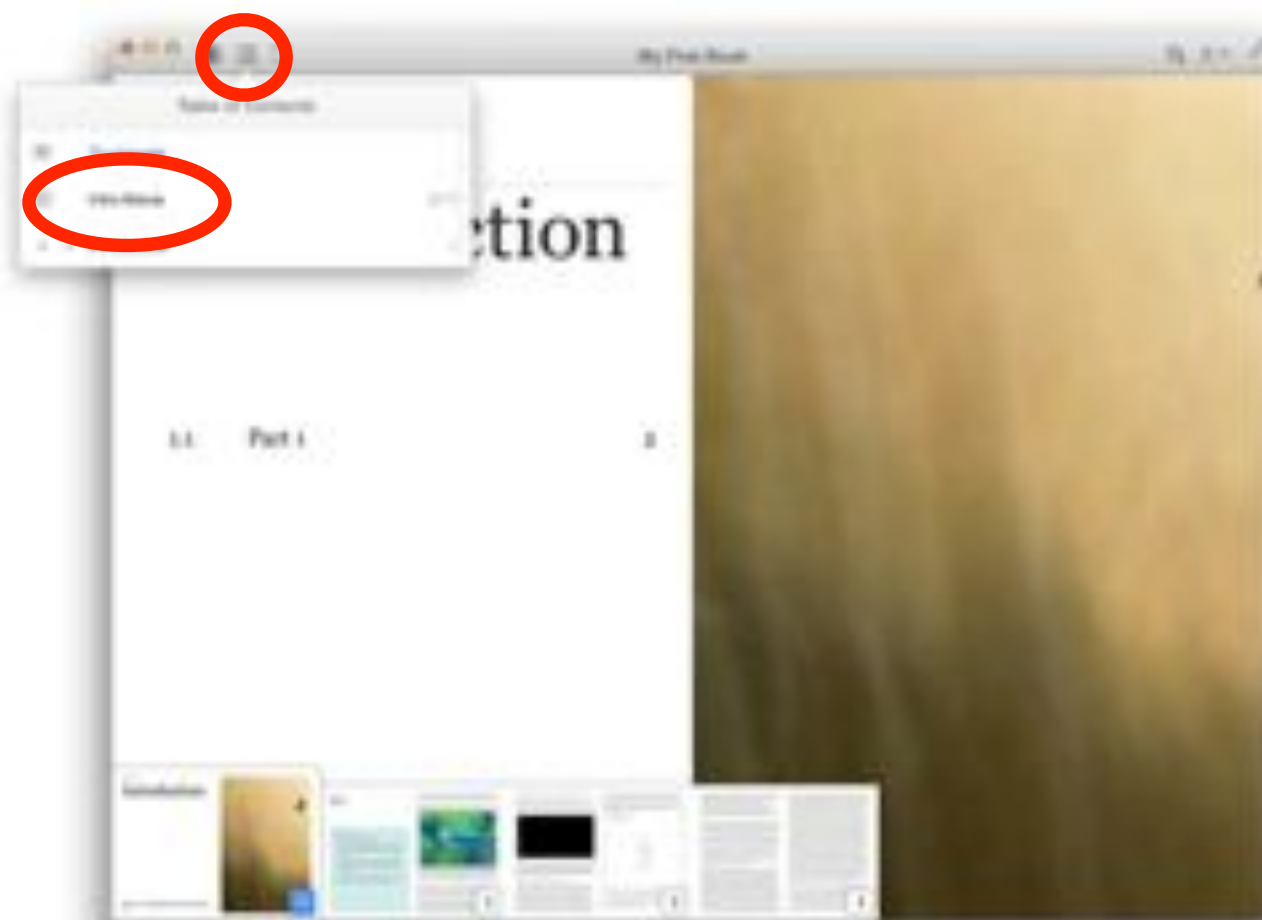

Click Widgets and insert a Review widget. This allows you to easily create a self-assessment quiz. Configure the quiz as you see fit.

Click the Preview button.

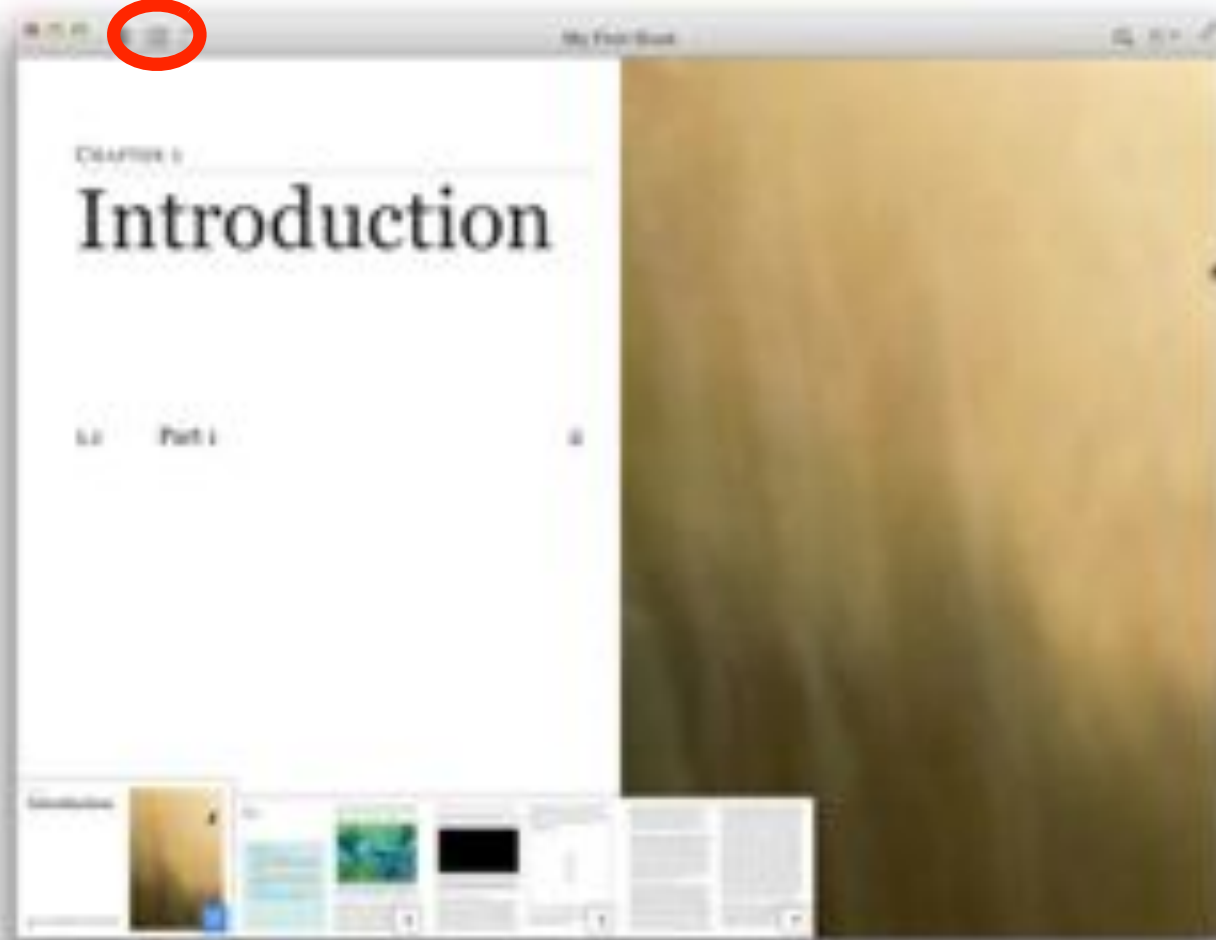

Click Preview.

The book opens in iBooks. Click the Table of Contents and choose Intro Movie.

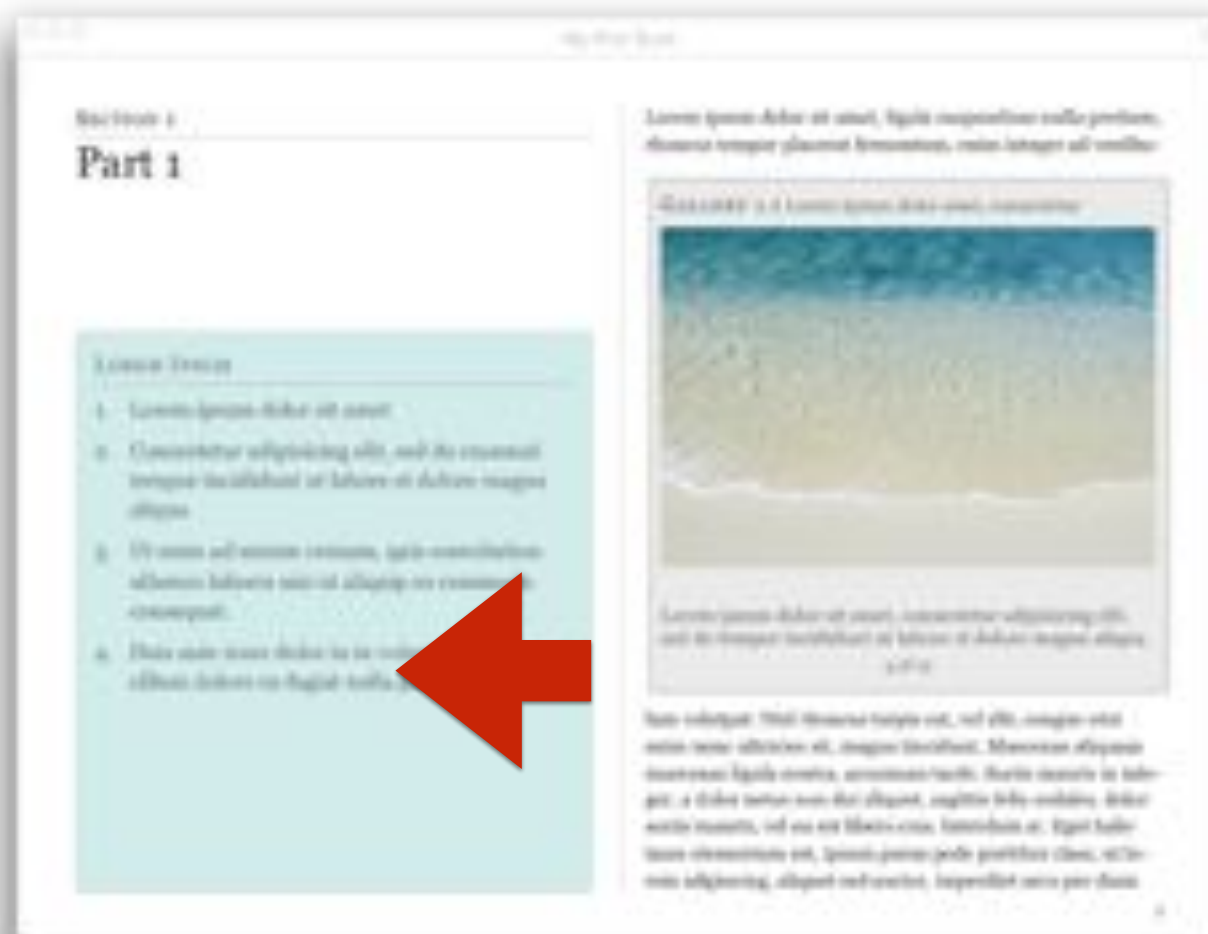

The Intro movie plays. Click Done when you're done.

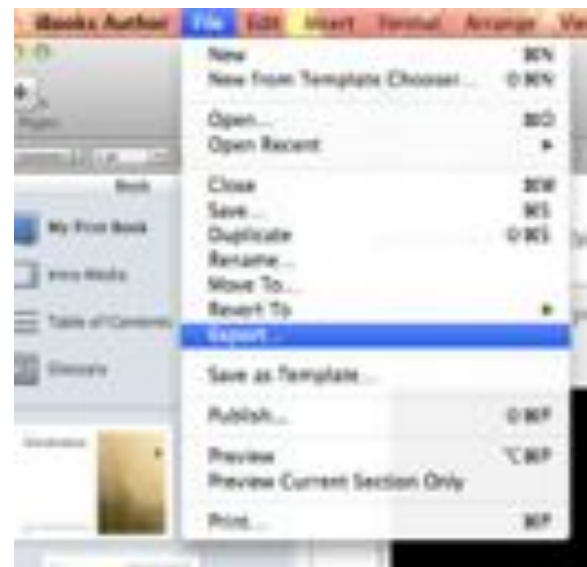

Click the Table of Contents and Choose Thumbnails. Thumbnails for all the pages appears. Click a thumbnail.

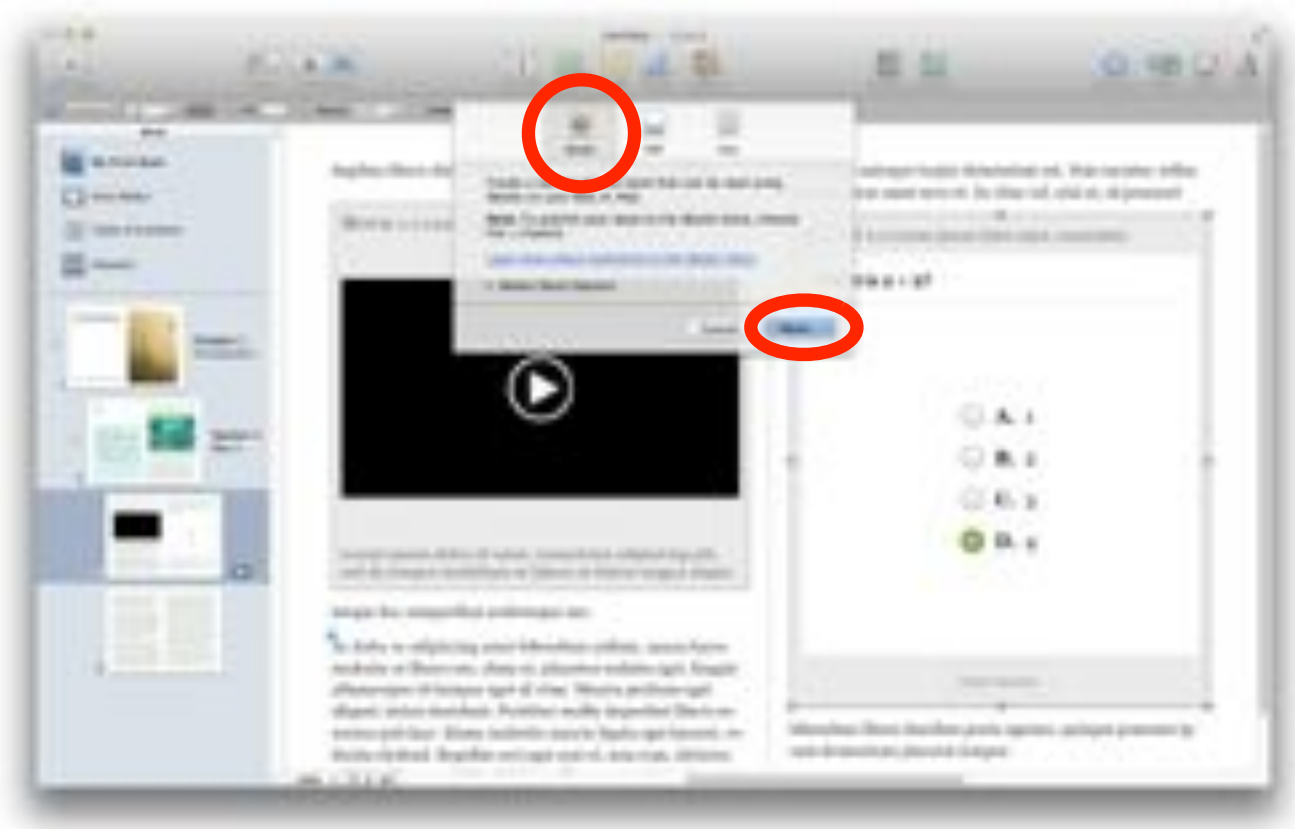

Test the Gallery by swiping to the left and right.

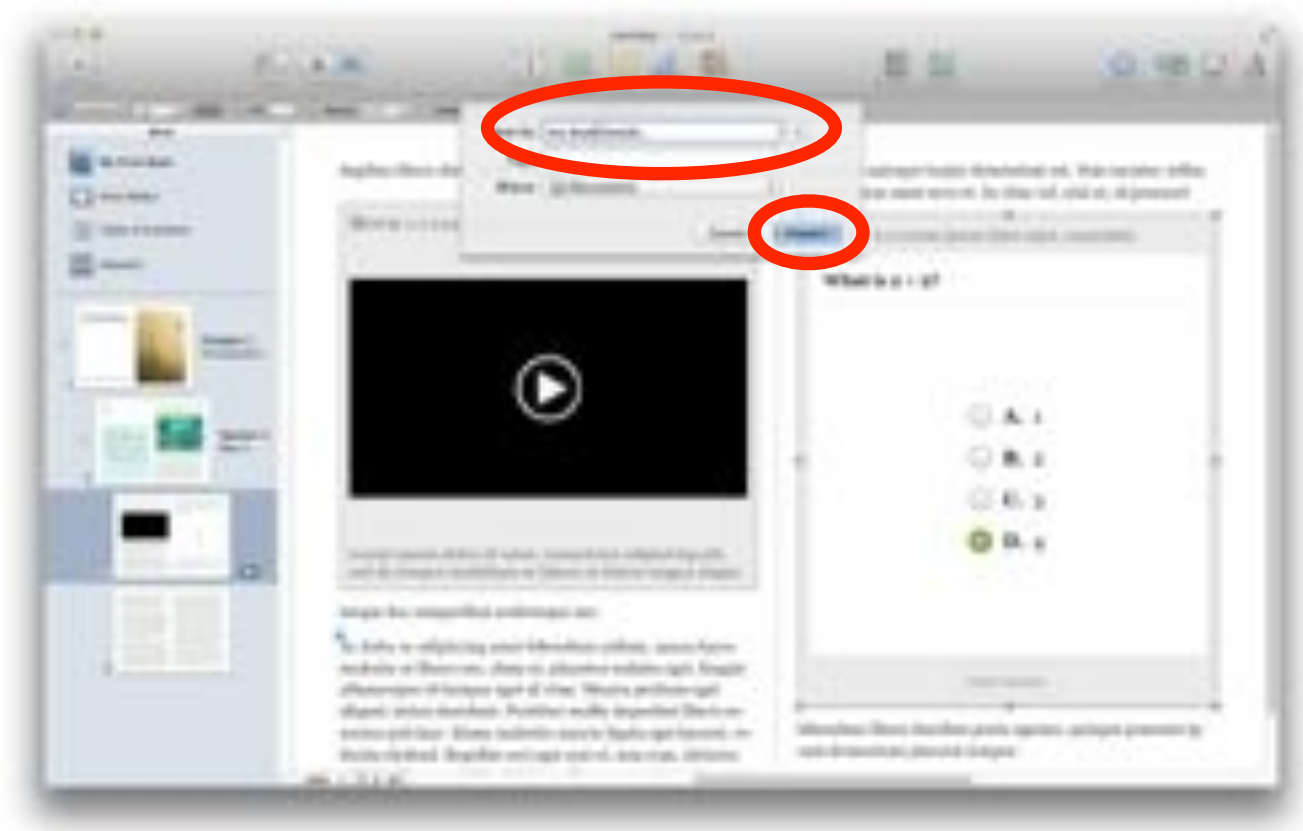

Swipe left to go to the next page.

To export this book as a digital book that you can share, choose File -> Export.

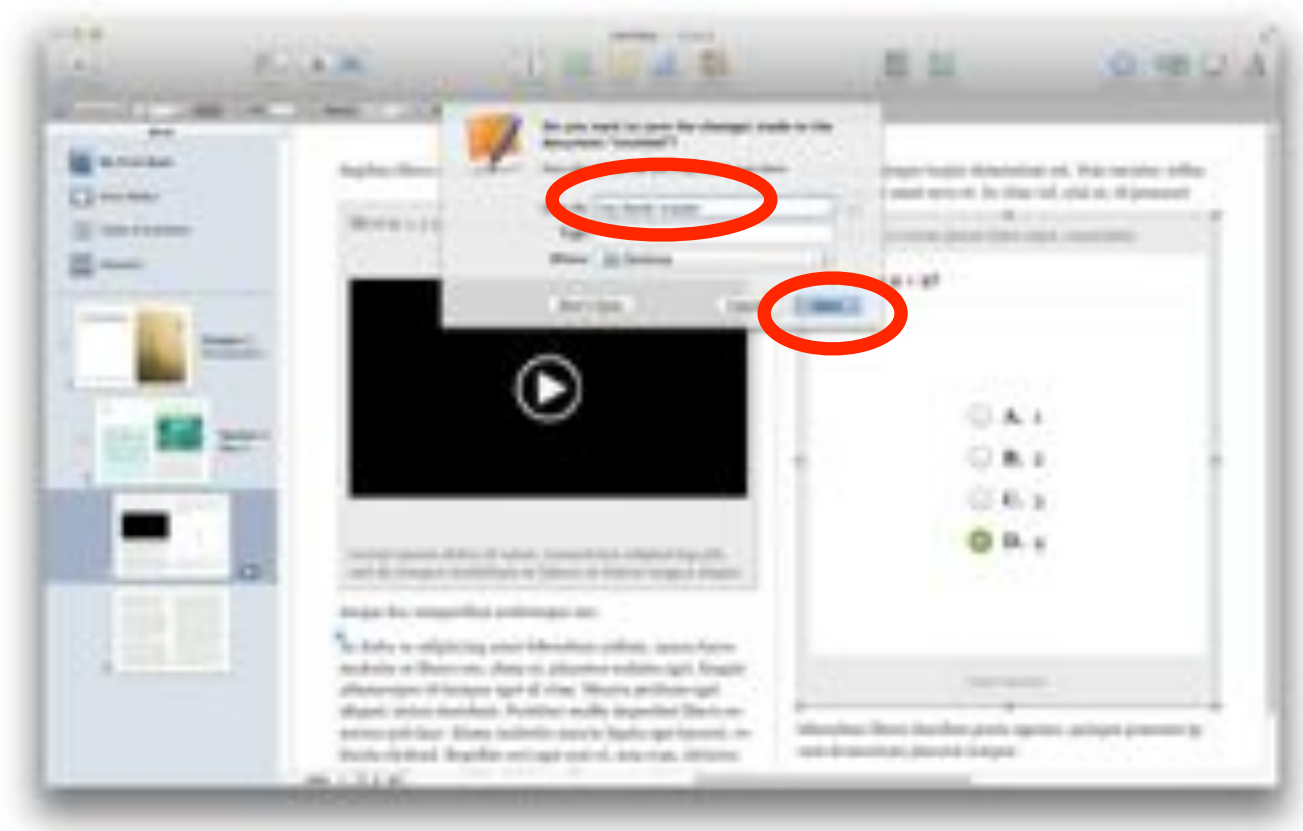

Click iBooks and click Next.

Name the book and export it.

Choose Quit from the iBooks Author menu.

You will be prompted to save the iBooks Author file. Save it to wherever you like. You can also save this file by choosing Save... from the File menu.